

92 responded to the Equality and Diversity Survey for Higher Education, which is virtually all of those students enrolled on a HE course with us.

I would describe myself as the following gender...

Just over half of those who responded are female, and three preferred not to tell the college.

I would describe myself as the following sexual orientation...

An overwhelming majority, 92%, said that they were heterosexual. Most others preferred not to disclose their sexual orientation to the college.

I would describe my religion or faith as the following...

The majority of students stated that they had no faith or religion, with the second highest religion being Christianity at 32% and eight students not disclosing their beliefs.

I would describe my marital status as the following...

Just over half of students are single who responded to the survey, and a further 40% are married or in a relationship. Only three people preferred not to say their relationships status.
